A New Obstacle.

The old obstacles that used to prevent the marriage of loving couples are out of date. The blood and thunder villain is a myth nowadays. The cruel father is only a tradition. Distance, absence and shipwreck in these days of cheap, safe and swift transportation do not count. The new obstacle is a common sense one. It is ill-health on one side or the other, and sometimes on both.

Men nowadays hesitate to marry a woman, no matter how beautiful, no matter how attractive, or interesting, or witty, if she is a sufferer from ill-health. All men worth having desire happy, healthy children. Any woman who will, may fit herself for the duties of wifehood and the exalted function of motherhood. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription banishes all hindrance in the nature of local ill-health. It gives health, power and capacity to the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and maternity. It corrects all displacements, allays inflammation, heals ulceration, stops exhausting drains and soothes pain. It prepares for natural, healthy motherhood. It makes maternity easy and safe and almost painless. It insures a new-comer constitutionally strong and able to withstand the usual ills of babyhood. It is the greatest of nerve tonics and restoratives. Medicine dealers sell it and an honest dealer will not urge a substitute upon you. "After suffering untold tortures," writes Mrs. J. Ferguson, of Box 29 Douglas Station, Selkirk Co., Montana, "I thank God I found relief and cure in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

The profit side of life is health. The balance is written in the rich, red, pure blood of health. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and make the blood rich and pure. They never gripe. By druggists.

A PATRIARCHAL LIAR.

Senator Stewart was interviewed, or caused himself to be interviewed, by the editor of the Independent, last Friday at Elko, while on his way to Washington. The statements in the Independent's publication of what was said are tissues of falsehoods from beginning to end. The assertion that thirty-one members of the Legislature, or half that number, are pledged to him is a harmless falsehood, too ridiculous to merit mentioning, except as an illustration of the lying capacity of our Junior Senator. In referring to the JOURNAL's suit against him, he said that instead of owing the JOURNAL anything the JOURNAL was owing him and that he would get judgment against it. This was a deliberate and malicious lie as he well knew. He knew that the bill upon which suit was brought was introduced by Mr. Kappler, his Private Secretary, and that said Secretary had approved it, precisely as it was introduced and published in yesterday morning's JOURNAL. He knew that he in person, as can be proven by competent and disinterested witnesses, had acknowledged the indebtedness and the justice of the bill, and only pleaded for time in regard to its payment. We will furthermore state that if he had complied with his promise to make a partial payment before he left for Washington, the suit would not have been brought, and it was only at the last hour before he left for the East that the papers were served upon him. But the crowning falsehood which caps the pyramid of lies, was his assertion that Mr. Newlands had furnished the money to purchase Mr. Kelley's interest in the JOURNAL. Mr. Newlands had no more connection with the purchase than the editor of the Independent. He knew nothing about it before the transaction was completed, nor probably until the change was announced in the columns of this paper, nor has he any claim upon it to-day, financial, political or otherwise, than the proverbial man in the moon. Stewart's assertion was a lie cut out of whoe cloth, for he had not a shadow of reason for even suspecting that his statement was true.

It is indeed pitiful, such monumental lying and utter depravity in an old man who ought to be saying his prayers and preparing for his interview with his Maker, which in the course of nature must be held within a very few years at longest—and which will be chronicled in the books of the Recording Angel instead of the columns of the Elko Independent.

WILL HARDLY BE FORGIVEN.

Several candidates who were elected to the Legislature have failed to file the sworn statements, as required by the Purity law, and if the law holds good, are not entitled to their seats. Among those who are very well known are Lem Allen of Churchill, elected to the lower house, and Flanagan of Washoe Senator-elect.

The men will only be refused their seats in case the candidate on the ticket receiving the next highest number of votes makes a contest. It is not likely that they will do this, as no one with a particle of fairness or self-respect would seek to occupy a seat in the Legislature when a majority of the voters in his county had registered their preference at the polls in favor of some other candidate.

Those who might be entitled under the law to make a contest on the technicality thus afforded, will be held in much greater respect by their fellow-citizens if they refrain from taking advantage of it.—Carson Appeal.

The Appeal is mistaken in its inference that the candidate receiving the next highest vote could legally be seated in the Legislature. He would have no more claim than a citizen who had received no votes at all. The seat could only be declared vacant and a special election called to fill the vacancy. The same with all offices made vacant because of any disqualifications of the candidate receiving the largest number of votes. In State and county offices in such cases, however, the vacancy is filled by appointment by the Governor or Board of County Commissioners. Such is not the case with members of the Legislature. Each branch is the judge of the qualifications of its own members, and unless the seat is contested by another candidate upon the ground of a miscount or some illegality of a portion of the vote by which the highest candidate was counted in, that branch cannot consider the claims of the person receiving the next highest vote. In the cases referred to there can be no such claim, as the majorities are too large. The seats can only be filled by the highest candidate or declared vacant and a new election called. The Appeal however, is correct in its assertion that no fair minded man would occupy a position for which he had been defeated at the polls. But, fortunately, the law prevents such class of persons from doing so.

THE BEST METHOD

Just as soon as the election was over Senator Mark Hanna said "that the Dingley tariff bill was a failure as a revenue getter; that tea and coffee would have to be taxed and the war revenue continued. Taxes have to be raised," he continued, "and I know of no better way than to tax tea and coffee and continue the war revenue tax."

We know of a better way. Impose two or three members of the United States Supreme Court; fill their places with honest men and then again enact the Income Tax law, and the financial question, so far as revenue is concerned, will be settled, without a higher tax on any of the necessities of life. Let wealthy men pay their proportionate tax that it should be a fair one. There is no necessity for a war revenue tax, such a tariff rate as makes the cost of governmental expenses more to the poor instead of the rich.

The Newland's Interview.

The JOURNAL publishes this morning the entire interview of the editor of the Silver State with Mr. Newlands. It was telegraphed specially to this paper from Winnemucca and will doubtless be read with interest by the JOURNAL's patrons. Time and space will not permit comments in this issue, but the subject matter will be thoroughly reviewed in the columns at an early date.

Hard to Tell.

We don't know whether the JOURNAL scribe ought to be mad or pleased at the apology of our youthful friend of the Report. We are, moreover, dubious as to whether the present pencil pusher or the other teller has cause of action at the youngster's mistaking the identity of the author of the criticized productions. However, we will call it a standoff with an admonition not to do it again.

Christening Battleships.

It is not believed that the origin of christening the warship was due to an act of irreverence as a mock baptism, but that its earliest inception was the human sacrifice, then the libations of wine of Greece and the north, and, with the spread of the Christian religion, the blessing of the battleship, a custom observed today in all Roman Catholic countries. The object was the same in both the pagan and Christian rites, to make the career of the ship successful by an appeal to the protection of unknown powers. Even the superstitions of those old days come down to us. We may not steal wood to make a swift keel for our new ship in the night, on the principle that thieves run fast in the darkness, but ships sail out of Marblehead today with a broom-nailed to the mast, and no crew will start out on a Friday unless under compulsion.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Duties of Citizenship.

No citizen has a right to criticize public affairs or bewail evil conditions which may exist unless he is willing to work, as all citizens should, to better those conditions. Let him ask himself if he has done his own duty before he laments the fact that others have failed in theirs. Let him be certain that he understands the duties of citizenship in his country. Few perfectly understand their obligations as citizens, although the subject is one to which every free-man should devote careful study. They would then be capable of active and intelligent effort and would perceive the folly of idleness. They would then know that liberty, like all things truly valuable, cannot be gained or kept without great effort and that it remains not long with the undeserving.—Speed Mosby in North American Review.

Still the Boss.

They had been chums during their schooldays, but had drifted apart. Years after they met again.

"What became of that Auburn haired Jones girl that used to be the boss tennis player in our set?"

"I married her," replied the other.

"And does she still play tennis?" queried his friend.

"No," was the reply, and a look of sadness stole over his face, "but she's still the boss."—Chicago News.

Knew His Business.

Hoax—You know Schneider, the bottle, who recently became a magistrate?

Joan—Yes.

"Well, he discharged a prisoner yesterday who was charged with stealing a dozen bottles of beer."

"So?"

"Yes. Schneider said that wasn't enough to make a case."—Philadelphia Record.

Dividends Out of Life.

The fools who give the 24 hours to business and boast of it may criticize the man who can expel business from his mind and enjoy his books, his friends, his club, the theater, the opera, the dinner or the dance, but the cheerful man gets dividends out of life where the other gets trouble.—Chauncey M. Depew.

Jealousy.

"Is she very much in love?"
"Much in love! Say! She heard some one say that all the world loves a lover, and she's been jealous ever since."—Chicago Post.

Still Another Cautious Husband.

"What do you think of that fire?" asked the young wife, pointing with pride to the kitchen range, with which she had been occupied for an hour.

"Well," yawned the husband, rubbing his half opened eyes, "it's pretty good, but it's not as good as mother used to make."—Yonkers Gazette.

Evidently.

"I see," remarked the observant boarder, "that a person who tried to commit suicide and failed has been fined $10."

"It would have been money in his pocket if he had succeeded," commented the cross eyed boarder.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Helpful Suggestion.

"No," said the cousin from the far west, "we can't burn wood in our part of the country. Timber's too scarce."

"I've heard that charcoal makes a hot fire," said her eastern cousin. "Don't they dig any in your neighborhood?"—Chicago Tribune.

NEWLANDS INTERVIEWED.

He Announces Himself a Candidate for U. S. Senator—Cognate Reasons Given for Entering the Field Against Stewart, Who Was Repudiated by the People of the State.

The following was received (special) by telegraph to the JOURNAL: WINNEMUGA, Nev., Dec. 3, 1898.—Mr. Newlands, while on his way to Washington, was interviewed as to the Senatorial question and as to his possible candidacy, by the Silver State. He said: "I had some idea of offering myself as a candidate for Senator prior to the State Convention, but before coming to a conclusion I proposed after the adjournment of Congress to go through the State and ascertain the sentiment of Silver men generally, as I was unwilling to do anything which would disrupt the Silver organization and I feared that a contest between Stewart and myself might result in this. Illness prevented me from getting about the State and shortly before the convention met I concluded, in the interest of general harmony, to run for Congress again and I was nominated by the Silver party on a platform which endorsed Stewart for the Senatorship. The State ticket of the Silver party was elected with the exception of the candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

"As to the Senatorial contest it was not conducted on straight party lines. The political forces divided themselves into Stewart and anti-Stewart, and the lines were drawn everywhere on this issue.

"The Stewart forces were beaten and Stewart has lost the Legislature. The anti-Stewart forces have not declared themselves in favor of any particular man and my name is mentioned as one upon which all can unite. The question is whether I can honorably be a candidate under the circumstances. My opinion is that I can and I have concluded to announce myself as a candidate.

"So far as my duty to support Stewart was concerned, it was fully performed up to the day of election. The people of the State of Nevada then declared against Stewart. It was no part of my duty to aid in reversing their decision.

"About the time I announced myself as a candidate for Congress, W. E. Sharon told Stewart's manager, Wallace, that Stewart was to have the field free from any opposition on my part, but that if Stewart failed to carry his legislative ticket the field would be open and that I would be at liberty to pursue such course as my judgment approved. As to my personal relations with Stewart they have been strained for some time. Soon after the Silver party convention adjourned, Stewart and his manager, Wallace, attempted to intrigue with the Republicans regarding their Congressional nominee. Their purpose was to defeat me or force me to contribute liberally to the campaign fund and thus help along Stewart's candidacy. The Purity of Elections law did not apply to the Senatorship, but did apply to Congressman. It forbade me under the penalties of the law, to spend over a certain sum and compelled me to make oath as to my expenditures, and not to reimburse expenditures made by others in my behalf. I declared that I proposed to adhere strictly to the law. They were contemptuous as to my conscientious scruples and endeavored to create the impression among the candidates and voters, and with newspapers, that I was a close and mean, and that economical, not conscientious considerations controlled me. The material which Wren, the Populist candidate for Congress made use of in his open letter to me was brought by Stewart from Washington for the purpose of attacking me in case I should be a Senatorial candidate. It was turned over to Wren in order to help him beat me. Everywhere the hostility, duplicity and treachery of Stewart and Wallace were apparent. While I was conscious of this, I determined not to retaliate. I maintained good faith in everything.

"I have always subordinated my personal feelings to the silver cause. Loyalty to the cause, however, no longer requires this sacrifice of me, as the people evidenced by their votes at the recent election that they considered me as good a silver man as Stewart in returning me to Congress by a handsome majority, while they decided in electing an anti-Stewart Legislature, that they do not want him to longer represent them in the United States Senate.

"I have stood four times the test of a popular vote, and I have no doubt I can stand the test of a legislative vote.

It will be well worth your time and trouble to visit W. G. Doane's jewelry store and inspect his elegant display of silverware, and the first and only electric illuminated show case in the State.

SIX TO FIVE.

The Youngsters Play Good Football on the University Gridiron

The football game was called at 2 p. m. sharp yesterday afternoon. The Freshmen won the toss and chose the north field, thus giving the High School the kick-off. O'Brien kicked to Acres, who ran the ball in fifteen yards. On next down Freshmen fumbled and ball went to High School, who gave it to Kirby for a 25-yard run. Freshmen gained ball on downs, and gained 15 yards by bucking, then passed the ball to Smith for a kick of 35 yards. High School caught ball, but on next play fumbled to LeGrave, who ran in 15 yards. By a series of bucks and end runs Smith, Acres and Mack carried the ball to High School's 20-yard line where they tumbled and ball went to Hoffman. Here the High School braced up and by a series of bucks and runs around right end succeeded in forcing the ball 70 yards for a touchdown. High School failed to kick the goal. Score, High School 5; Freshmen, 0.

On next kick-off Smith kicked 35 yards to Perry, who ran in 10 yards. Time called with ball in High School territory.

SECOND HALF.

Smith kicks off 40 yards to Stewart, who runs in 10 yards. This was followed by hard dives by Perry, Leonard, Pratt and Chism, who carried it to center and lost ball on downs to the Freshmen. Acres gets ball and makes a pretty dash of 25 yards, but fumbles to Stewart. High School forces ball to center where she loses it in the downs. The Freshmen brace up and by a series of bucks by Smith, Case, Acres and Grimes carry it over for a touchdown. Smith kicks goal. Score, High School, 5; Freshmen, 6.

Hoffman kicks off to Leadbetter, who runs it in 10 yards. Case, Smith and Acres carry it in 15 yards, but lose it on downs on their 45-yard line. High School gingers up and by repeated dives by Stewart and Leonard carry ball to 10-yard line where time was called.

Time of halves 25 minutes. Touchdowns made by Leonard and Grimes. Goals kicked, Smith 1.

Some Satisfaction.

Were it not for the fact that the JOURNAL has changed hands, the News could, with all propriety, inquire what it would levy on in case it secured judgement. Stewart has not one dollar's worth of property in Nevada.—News.

We don't know why the News makes the "propriety" distinction because the JOURNAL has changed hands, as the concern, in any event, would want its money which it had legitimately earned. In regard to its being beaten on execution, that, we admit is possible and perhaps probable. But at all events the JOURNAL with have the honor and satisfaction of at least holding a judgment against a United States Senator—or an ex-ditto.

Knows It All.

Sam Davis of the Carson Appeal seems to know all about the JOURNAL's business relations with Senator Stewart. At all events he knows, or professes to know, much more than the former junior, now senior member of JOURNAL firm. Although we dislike to parade our former or present business matters, before the public which is not interested in them, in justice to ourselves we may be tempted to give a detailed account of all such transaction within our knowledge, as there is nothing in them which the present firm has any desire or disposition to conceal. It is a simple story, easily told and one which the entire world is welcome to know.

"Boy Wanted."

The extravagance of the "Boy Wanted" at the Opera House last evening attracted a good patronage. The company is composed of clever comedians, talented vocalists, good dancers and vaudeville artists and they gave the best of satisfaction, keeping the audience in good humor throughout the entire performance. Manager Piper is using every effort to secure these eastern attractions for this circuit, that theater goers may have the benefit of the latest novelties. He is put to extra expense by reason of having these companies stop over here on their way West and should receive substantial encouragement.

Listen to Them.

Now that Senator Stewart has gone to Washington it will be in order for the opposition journals to follow the lines of the coyote and set up a howl that will be echoed to each other all along the line. Listen and you will hear their wall on his trail before the scent is cold.—Carson Appeal.

And the "wall" of a dozen or more unpaid creditors will join in the general chorus.

Realizing the situation at once, and having nothing with which to cut her companion down, she grabbed her around the body and held her up so as to slacken the cord until help came. In the meantime she yelled for the officers and they came to her relief.
